BIBLE SCENE.

A prophet beholds a man of high rank, defiled by his uncleanness, in the presence of a good and an evil spirit. The good spirit rebukes the wicked one, commands those present to remove from the man his filthiness, and declares that his sins are forgiven. Those commanded obey, and place upon his head a fair covering and array him in new apparel.

A VERSE IN THE BIBLE.

I, in the Bible, am disclosed,
A verse of seven words composed,
My first condition brings to view;
My second, persons spoken to.
Of sister graces pure and blest,
My third is said to be the best;
My fourth the object of the third
Is Christ, although a different word.
Fifth means obey, and sixth defines
My last, but to my fourth inclines;
My last, comprises every word
That from Mount Sinai's flame was heard;
My whole is given for a test,
To those who have their faith professed;
The only rule that will define
The spurious and the genuine. E. B. KENNEDY, Portersville, Pa.
