

E. J. Hodgson, George L. Dickenson and William F. Stills, to recover $2,500 due on a note made by the company and signed by the gentlemen named as officers.

Revival services are in progress this week at Blackford-street M. E. Church, conducted by the pastor, W. F. Sheridan. To-night Frank W. Robinson will preach. Seventeen conversions have resulted from the Sunday evening services of the last few weeks.

Simon Smith has been divorced from Mary Smith by reason of abandonment, and Martha F. Hammond from Rezin Hammond, owing to ill treatment and intemperance. Mrs. Hammond was also given $50 per month alimony on her claim of $30,000.

Mrs. Davidson, mother of Dora Davidson, who was prostrated by religious excitement last week, corrects the report that she is an invalid and says that no religious services were held in her house, and that the friends who called were invited and did not sing or make any noise at the bedside.

In the suit of the Berkshire Life Insurance Company against Patrick A. and Mary Ward, on account of a three-thousand-dollar loan made, Judge Taylor yesterday held that Mrs. Ward was equally liable with her husband and judgment was taken against both. They will appeal to the Supreme Court.

Mrs. Mary Walters, of West Pearl street, who was brought to the Central Police Station yesterday afternoon while evidently

Indianapolis News 6-30-1885 p. 4 c. 2